

What helps develop an oracy culture?

Any activities which help students build skills and confidence in speaking and listening are applicable. These may include debating, public speaking or similar.

ESU Oracy Culture Award Application Form

The ESU Oracy Culture Award is a prize that recognises the efforts and initiatives that schools put forward to cultivate a long-term oracy culture within their school community. Your school is eligible to apply if it has taken part in any of the following ESU programmes from September 2017 to January 2019:

- Big Debate Day
- Debate-able
- Discover Debating
- Discover Your Voice
- House of Lords Chamber Debate
- London Debate Challenge
- Performing Shakespeare
- ESU-Churchill Public Speaking Competition
- Schools' Mace

Please answer the following prompts with as much detail as you wish. At the end, you may also attach any photos and/or videos of internal school debating or public speaking events, activities, wall displays, staff training, etc., as well as any resources you've created that have had a particular impact on your students. Please send the completed form to robert.saul@esu.org.

The winning school will receive an ESU Oracy Culture Award trophy and a full day Discover Your Voice workshop for up to 24 students.

Applications for the ESU Oracy Culture Award will close on Friday, 8 March. All applications for the Oracy Culture Award will be anonymised and judged by an impartial panel with experience in oracy education. The winners will be notified by email by 13 March, and representatives from the winning schools will be invited to accept their award at the Schools' Mace 2018-19 English National Final on Monday, 25 March 2018 at Dartmouth House, London.
