

Unit 1A: Introduction to Oracy
	Lesson	Objective	Skillsets
1	What is Oracy?	To experience and understand why oracy is such an important skill	R&E; L&R
2	Introduction to reasoning, part 1	To understand that opinions need to be supported with reasons	R&E; L&R; O&P
3	Introduction to reasoning, part 2	To deepen understanding about the need for opinions to be supported with reasons	R&E; L&R; E&D; O&P
4	Introduction to Style	To understand and begin to use a range of non-verbal cues for effect	E&D
5	Listening and Responding, part 1	To be able to identify an argument and begin to formulate a response	R&E; L&R; E&D; O&P
6	Listening and Responding, part 2	To be able to identify and respond to an argument using the response framework	R&E; L&R; E&D; O&P

Unit 1B: Effective argumentation: Make your case
	Lesson	Objective	Skillsets
1	Argumentation	To be able to make an argument using a point, an explanation and an example	R&E; E&D; O&P
2	Argumentation and Response	To be able to identify and respond to an argument using the response framework	R&E; L&R; E&D
3	Information Selection	To be able to select information that is relevant to make an argument	R&E; E&D; O&P
4	Stakeholders	To understand that a motion can affect many different groups of people	R&E; L&R; O&P
5	Preparing for a Balloon Debate	To recap the key skills, vocabulary and protocols used when debating	R&E; L&R; E&D; O&P
6	Balloon Debate	To engage in a debate either as a character or as an audience member with voting responsibility	R&E; L&R; E&D; O&P

The four ESU skillsets are:
Reasoning & Evidence; Listening & Response;
Expression & Delivery; Organisation & Prioritisation